What is this role / apprenticeship?

The Level 4 Senior Housing and Property Management apprenticeship provides a vital solution to the housing sector's growing need for skilled, confident leaders. As social landlords, local authorities, and housing associations face unprecedented reform, new regulations, and rising tenant expectations, this programme equips professionals to manage services strategically, lead teams effectively, and ensure compliance with evolving housing standards.

Learners develop expertise in areas such as governance, financial oversight, tenant engagement, and regulatory compliance, including fire and building safety, the Decent Homes Standard, and Tenant Satisfaction Measures. With new legislation now requiring senior managers to hold a Level 4 or 5 housing qualification, this apprenticeship offers a nationally recognised route to meet that requirement while advancing career progression. Beyond technical leadership, it fosters empathy, accountability, and a strong sense of social purpose, empowering managers to create safe, inclusive, and thriving communities. For employers, it strengthens leadership capacity and succession planning, supporting a professionalised, resilient workforce capable of delivering high-quality, tenant-focused housing services.
